Dear Perry

Global Construction Summit
Construction Project Management Best Practice 2010
Paris 24/25 June 2010

I am writing on behalf of the Summit Partners to convey their appreciation to you for your participation at the Paris 2010 Global Construction Summit. You made a significant contribution to a unique landmark event that covered a diverse range of topics with a very high quality of presenters. The feedback from delegates so far has been excellent.

In the words of ECI President, Michel Virlogeux: “Never before have so many companies and organisations from different sectors of the construction industry, and all parts of the supply chain, come together with a common aim in mind. The subtext of the event theme: “a springboard for the next decade” has captured the spirit of the event and helped to focus delegates’ attention on the desired outcome of future collaboration on construction improvement and innovation between event partners and participants.”

Your individual presentation delivered by video was entirely consistent with the event theme and incorporated some important messages that helped to stimulate discussion amongst the delegates. Your positive approach, drawing on significant experience of the application of construction best practice in the pursuit of project excellence, set the right tone and helped to consolidate what turned out to be a highly successful event.

Many thanks again for your contribution and the important part you played in helping to make the Global Construction Summit so successful. Your willingness to contribute positively and generously in the sharing and development of knowledge and experience of construction best practice is much appreciated. I hope you enjoyed attending the event and your visit to Paris

Yours sincerely
